Sofia's Surprise

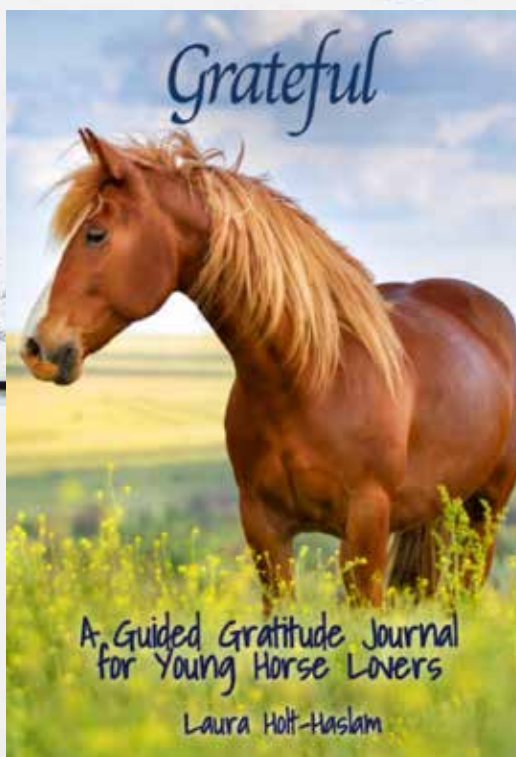

Laura Holt-Haslam

Nine-year-old Sofia Ruiz has just one Christmas wish—a horse of her own. But without winter boots or fuel to heat their run-down trailer, she would settle for just being warm.

With Christmas only days away, Mom arranges for Sofia to spend two weeks with her grandmother, a stranger she hasn't seen in six years. A painful rift separates Mom from Gramma Lisa, but neither will talk about what happened. Sofia dreads being left alone.

Sofia's dread becomes delight when she discovers Gramma Lisa owns a Morgan horse named Delilah. Sofia learns about caring for the mare and eagerly volunteers to do the chores, hoping Gramma Lisa will allow her to ride Delilah. As Sofia and Gramma Lisa pursue their shared passion for horses, Sofia feels increasingly conflicted. She wishes she and Mom could move in with her grandmother, but Mom's strained relationship with Gramma Lisa stands in the way. If they cannot forgive, will they force Sofia to choose between them?

Snowed in at Ravensbay

Cressida Burton

It's the Christmas holidays at last, and Paige Buchanan just can't wait to accompany her best friend, Taryn Konstantine, back to her luxurious family home, The Paddocks, for several days of festive fun. There'll be delicious food to eat, animals to play with, and even ponies to ride... it's going to be just perfect. Except that an unexpected snowstorm arrives on the very last day of term, cutting off the Ravensbay headland, and any girls still at school find themselves snowed in. Suddenly all their Christmas plans are ruined!

Then, as the school struggles to cope with power cuts, Paige and Taryn find themselves back in their year seven dorm, Puffins, with an old friend. Believing that all they can do to amuse themselves is to watch Christmas films and eat chocolate whilst they wait the storm out, the girls find instead that they are required to help in some very unexpected activities, including a rescue mission across the bitter, snow-clad moors that, if they don't succeed, could result in a terrible tragedy.

Gift Horse

Tudor Robins

Kiki longs to have her own horse. She particularly covets Pitch Perfect, the lovely grey owned by one of her lesson mates.

It can't do any harm to imagine trotting along on light-footed Pitch instead of the sweet-but-clunky schooling horse she rides every week.

As long as she remembers, it's just a dream.

But what if Kiki could own a horse after all? And not just any horse – what if Kiki could own Pitch?

It will take compromise, cooperation, and creativity – but maybe Kiki can have the best gift ever this holiday.

North Oak Box Set (Books 1-3)

Ann Hunter

In this special compilation of books 1 through 3 of the North Oak series, you'll discover and relive Alex's first year at North Oak. The trilogy contains:

BORN TO RUN

Alexandra Anderson is on the run from the law. When the thirteen-year-old orphan can run no further, she collapses at the gates of the prestigious racing and breeding farm, North Oak. Horse racing strikes a deep chord in her. She hears a higher calling in the jingle jangle of bit and stirrup and in the thunder of hooves on the turn for home.

It tells her she has a place in the world. But when the racing headlines find her on the front of every sports page, she realizes North Oak is no longer a safe haven. Money can't buy love, but it just might secure Alex's future. Will everyone at North Oak still want to offer her a home when they learn of her unspeakable crime?

YEARLING

A new year has come to North Oak, and with it a new life for Alexandra Anderson. Still haunted by Ashley's brutal death, Alex worries she won't seem grateful if she's unhappy. To make it worse, Promenade has been nominated to the Keeneland Yearling Sale.

She's going to lose everything... again.

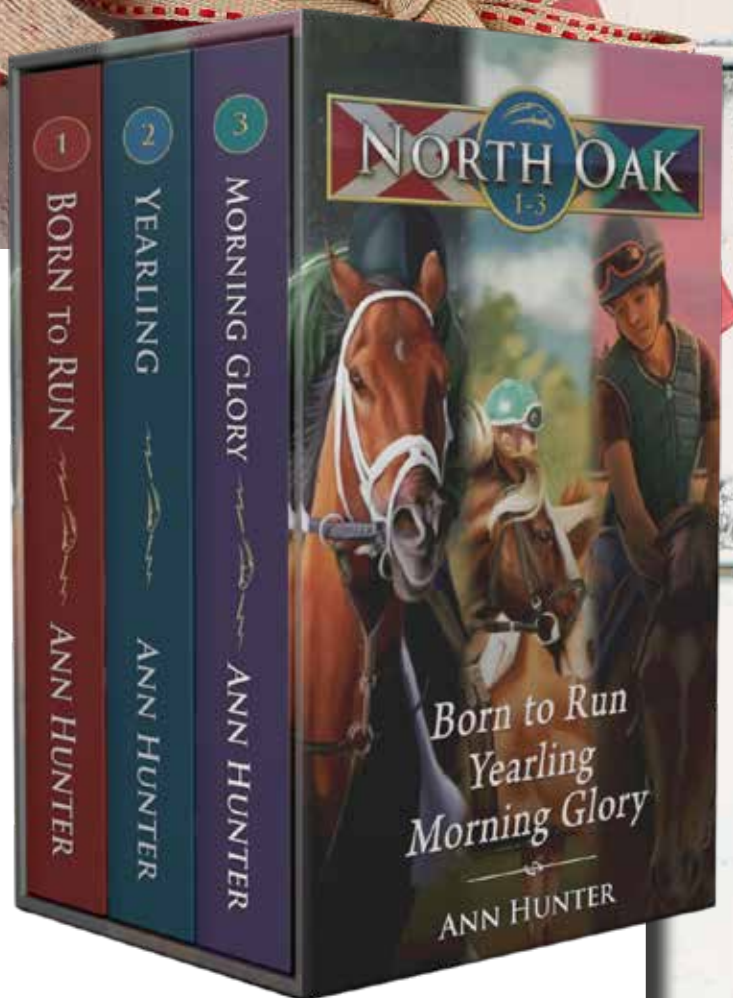

It's too painful to let love in and easier to be angry at the world for her abusive past than to let it go. Easier to put up walls so no one knows she's hurting. Will Alex be able to open her heart to others when it's still battling personal demons? Or will she go so deep into herself that no one can reach her?

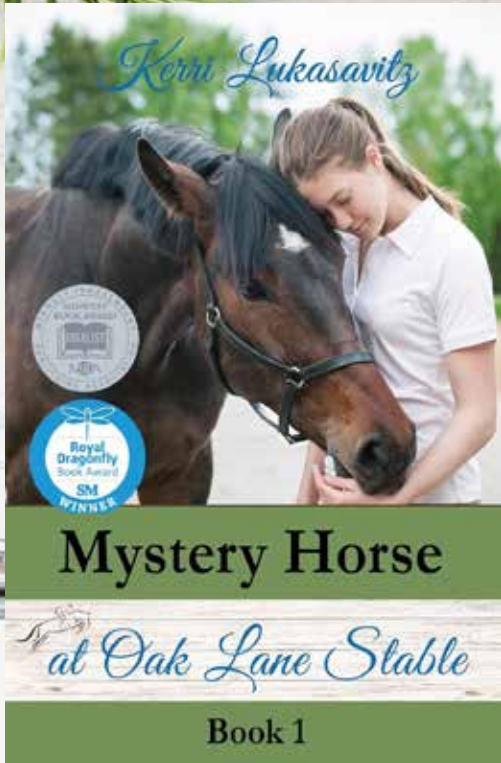

MORNING GLORY

When a terrible accident shakes the Showman's, Alex finds herself questioning her place in the family. Feeling like a second class citizen, she turns once again to find her solace in horse racing.

With a new filly to manage with Brooke, and Venus Galaxies's first foal on the way, the girls must rely on each other to make things work out. But will a handsome, foreign newcomer split them apart once again?

Mystery Horse at Oak Lane Stable

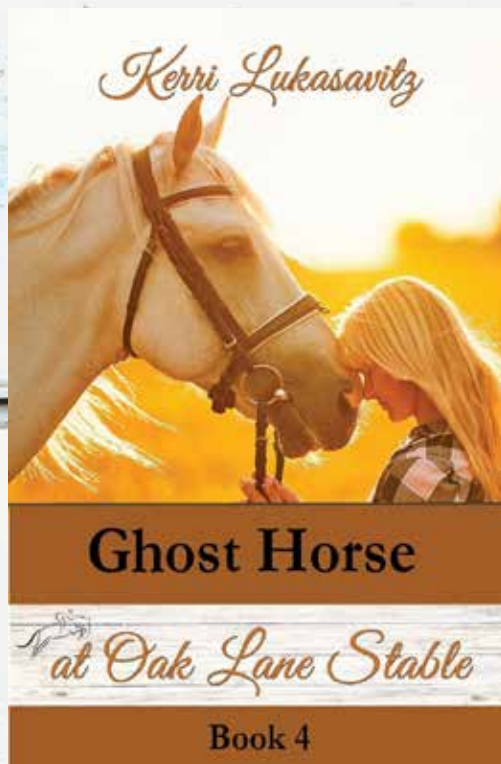

Kerri Lukasavitz

Cassie Piotrowski is upset. After a special morning of horse shopping, the twelve-year-old equestrian is horrified to end up standing in a filthy paddock with four starving horses. The young horse lover is heartbroken when her dad refuses to buy the bay horse she's befriended and when she learns the horses are about to load for auction. Still pleading with her dad, they drive away, relinquishing the horses to their terrible fate.

Knowing that it was too late to save the horses and still angry at her dad for refusing to help, Cassie is surprised when she arrives at the stable the next day and finds the befriended mystery horse standing in a paddock. Despite telling her dad the good news when she gets home, he still refuses to buy her the horse.

How can Cassie convince her dad that the bay mystery horse is perfect for her before he's sold to a new owner and she loses him forever?

Ghost Horse at Oak Lane Stable

Kerri Lukasavitz

Two horses. One choice. How does it end?

Cassie Piotrowski is troubled. When her showjumper, NightHawk, takes longer than expected to heal from a puncture wound, the fourteen-year-old rider is concerned when her dad questions the horse's ability to return to the show ring, tossing around how he should have sold the ill-suited mount when he'd had the chance. But when she's loaned Ghost Story, the stable's showjumper, for the summer, Cassie is determined to prove that she can compete on the new horse and win, buying time until she can show NightHawk again.

Still wishing she could ride NightHawk, Cassie sets off to compete with Ghost Story, against the speed trials and sharp turns of jumper courses. But with the stiff competition and failing to follow the trainer's instruction, Cassie stumbles, losing her confidence and edge and fearing losing both horses forever because of her costly mistakes.

Will Cassie get to keep NightHawk and maybe Ghost Story, or will unforeseen challenges crush the young riders dreams?

Spirit of Summerwood

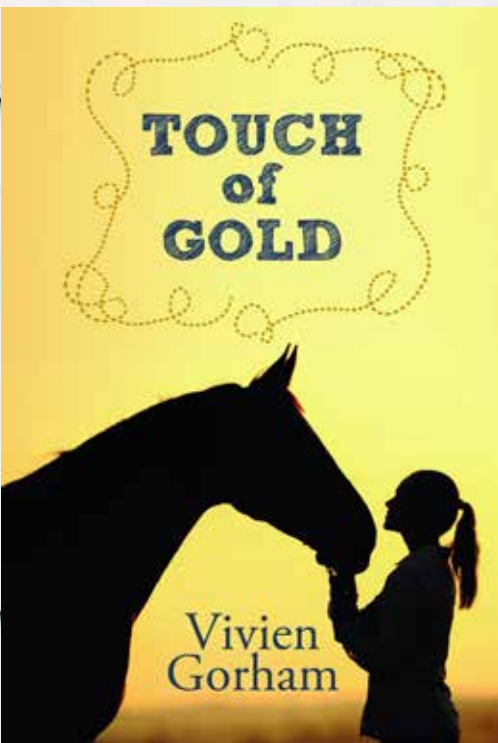

Vivien Gorham

It's finally summer, and for twelve-year-old Aislinn, that means two sweet, uninterrupted weeks at her favourite place in the world Summerwood Farm. At Summerwood's all-girl horse camp, Aislinn is surrounded by all the things she loves most: her Arabian, Firefly; her best friend, Jill; and her mentor, Grace.

But this year, things are different from day one.

There's a boy at camp, Grace seems tense, and rumours swirl about the stable's land being sold. Not to mention, Aislinn keeps seeing things no one else can a fox, an owl, and even a ghostly boy who seems to need her help and her visions are starting to affect her riding and her friendships. So one starry night, Aislinn sneaks out to meet the ghost boy and hear his story. She also learns about the Indigenous history of the land around Summerwood, and what life was like for residents of a former Poor Farm that was in the same area. But, as Aislinn soon finds out, all actions have consequences and she faces serious punishment for breaking Summerwood's rules.

Horse on the Loose

Leslie McDonald

The Mighty Quin is a retired show horse who is afraid his beloved owner will sell him because he can no longer jump the big fences to win blue ribbons as he did in his youth. Determined not to let humans govern his fate, Quin makes a bold escape from his stable to search for the perfect home. From golf course fairways to city streets to suburban backyards with the police hot on his trail, Quin gains fresh perspective about human nature, loyalty and, ultimately, true love.

Musings of a Horse Farm Corgi

Leslie McDonald

Musings of a Horse Farm Corgi is an engaging, true life story as told from the unique perspective of Beamer the Corgi. It's a big job to become the "Corgi in Charge" of a working horse farm. Even more so when you have to overcome the "Curse of the Fluffy." Branded in early puppyhood by a genetic hair flaw that sets him apart from other corgis, Beamer's undaunted spirit and perserverance bubble to the top of this entertaining book which brings a smile on every page. Beamer's special insights and opinions of the cast of characters who comprise his world will have readers checking out their own dogs in a whole new light.

With Purpose: The Balmoral Standard

Rennie Dyball

Carleton Brooks and Traci Brooks share their decades of knowledge, expertise, and winning ways in their first book, With Purpose: The Balmoral Standard. Carleton is a widely respected horseman, a large “R” judge, and member of the National Show Hunter Hall of Fame, and Traci has spent more than 30 years developing horses and riders, guiding them to victory at the biggest shows in the country. With Purpose is divided into three sections: On Horsemanship, On Training, and On the Industry. In each section, you’ll uncover a wealth of information gleaned from Carleton and Traci’s careers. They will also walk you through...

- Analyzing and refining your stalls and turnout to best care for your animal
- Why horses gravitate to certain people
- Why going forward solves most riding problems
- The rider’s four bases of support
- Detailed notes and suggestions for flatwork and jumping exercises
- Demystifying “The Distance”
- Coping with show nerves
- Showing through the judges’ eyes

With “CB” and Traci’s signature wit and warmth, With Purpose provides foundational equestrian education from the ground up.
